

D7651W0

WiFi Gateway

Description

D7651W0 is WIFI Gateway for management. Through the Ink Nameplate Gateway, unified management is achieved, allowing for batch import of attendees, making it convenient for management personnel to uniformly update the content of the Ink Nameplates.

Features

- POE supply power
- The management computer can be connected to the gateway via wired or wireless connections.
- It can batch import attendees.
- It supports user registration and login.
- It configures WIFI account and password functionality for desk nameplates.
- It supports custom meeting templates.
- It supports setting aliases for devices.

Specifications

Model	D7651W0
Power supply	POE Power Supply
Control method	The management computer can be connected to the gateway via wired or wireless connections.
POE IN	48V

Front / Rear Panel

1. POE Power Supply Port: The adapter powers the gateway through the Ethernet cable.
2. LAN port: Management of computers requires a wired connection to the gateway when connecting to the LAN port.